Catholic Life

Chaplaincy/Catholic Life

We welcomed our primary schools to St Paul's for the end of their prayer relay celebrations with a mass led by Fr Owen.

- Our Youth SVP council, following on from last term's discussion points on our values and community ties, have begun to sell ice lollies now that the weather is becoming brighter and warmer - collections will be divided into donations for Caritas, and towards creating a prayer garden within the school.
- In Liturgical Prayer this term we are looking towards our core values, stewardship and service. Throughout this term we will be focussing on how we can be better stewards to the Earth and how we as students can help to positively impact change.
- On Thursday 18th May we celebrated the Ascension of Jesus to His Father. We celebrated with liturgies within forms.
- We will celebrate our Year 11's leaving us to continue their journey at college and employment. We will join together in service and celebrate a liturgy together.
- On 29th June we celebrate Mass with Father Owen for our St Peter & Paul's Day celebrations.
- On 12th July we will welcome Father Eamon Mulcahy to our school for a CPD session with staff.
- Father Owen will be helping to prepare those who are joining himself and Mr Fannon on the Medjugorje pilgrimage in the 2023-2024 Autumn term.

Year 10 Geography Field Trip

Geography Field Trip Year 10

Geography field trips make a unique contribution to a student's education and offer many varied benefits; with this in mind, Year 10 students visited the Goyt Valley in the Peak District as part of their GCSE Geography course.

The fieldwork involved a day working with representatives from the Peak District National Park Authority studying the changing river environment for their GCSE fieldwork.

Miss Allsopp-Medley, Head of Geography, said: "This is an excellent opportunity for our students to get outdoors and practice their geographical skills in the real world. Field work is an essential component of geography education and the trip directly related to work which the students had been taught in the classroom. The practical skills that are gained on a trip such this are important in connecting the theory and vital in connecting classroom teaching with the real world. I was delighted that the group demonstrated an excellent application of their knowledge from the classroom to the real world."

"The students thoroughly enjoyed the field trip and had an extremely positive attitude to their research. Students were highly engaged in the day and enjoyed seeing their geography lessons come to life," added Miss Allsopp-Medley.

"The world outside the school is richly inspiring, constantly re-energising what takes place within the classroom. A field trip is a fantastic opportunity for students to gain a level of understanding about Geography that textbooks or lessons alone, however good, can never equal," commented Head Teacher, Mr Hren. "It's an opportunity for students to be creative, and to have a personalised outcome which gives them a sense of ownership of the learning. It's a fantastic way to bring Geography to life."

Year 10 Art Trip

Visit to Yorkshire Sculpture Park

A group of students from Saint Paul's recently visited Yorkshire Sculpture Park with a focus on incorporating sculpture and landscape into their Art studies.

Both staff and students were inspired by the stunning contemporary and historical sculptural art on show at the Yorkshire Sculpture Park, the UK's leading open-air gallery, near Wakefield. The students were able to develop their creative and critical thinking skills and enhance their sculptural vocabulary to make relevant connections between contemporary art, the world around them and their place within.

The students explored the sculpture grounds, looking at and analysing the diverse range of sculpture by masters and contemporary, such as Henry Moore, Ai Weiwei, Damien Hirst and Barbara Hepworth.

It was a very successful trip with students enjoying and exploring the outdoors as well as the variety of exciting artwork that was on display. The visit allowed the students to develop a rich and broad range of important skills linked to the curriculum and will inspire and inform their GCSE work.

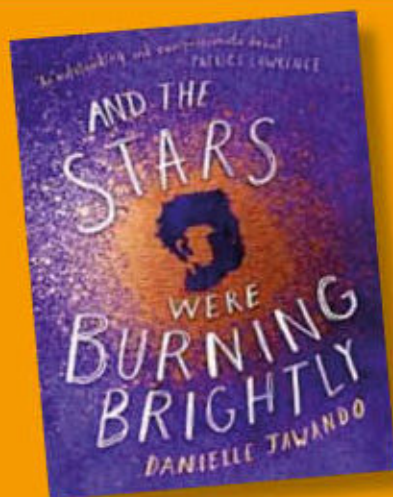

Miss Coyle, Head of Art, said: "It was fantastic to be able to walk through and around the sculptures at Yorkshire Sculpture Park. This was a wonderful visit which provided masses of inspiration. It was an absolute pleasure to accompany such passionate artists for the day and support them in their artistic development.

The purpose of the trip was for the students to use the rule of thirds incorporating sculpture and landscape for their mark making brief. The students are developing this work as part of their mock exam on their return. Developing independence and research skills along with photography and composition skills.

The visit allowed students to experience a wide range of artistic styles and ideas whilst appreciating the sheer scale of some of the pieces and the media used. It was incredible to be able to interact with the sculptures so closely and see all the individual marks and imprints made on the pieces."

Visit by Inspirational Author

Author, screenwriter and lecturer, Danielle Jawando, recently visited Saint Paul's to talk to students about her books.

Danielle's debut novel, And the Stars Were Burning Brightly, won best senior novel in the Great Reads Award and was shortlisted for the Waterstones Children's Book Prize, the Young Adult Book Prize, the Jhalak Children's & Young Adult Prize, the Branford Boase Award and was longlisted for the CILIP Carnegie Medal, the UKLA Book Awards and the Amazing Book Awards. Her other publications include When Our Worlds Collided, the non-fiction children's book Maya Angelou (Little Guides to Great Lives), the short stories Paradise 703 (long-listed for the Finishing Line Press Award) and The Deerstalker (selected as one of six finalists for the We Need Diverse Books short story competition).

The author has also had several short plays performed in Manchester and London and has worked on Coronation Street as a storyline writer.

Danielle gave a fantastic interactive talk about her path to becoming an author, where she gets her inspiration and the themes within her wonderful books.

"Danielle connected well with the pupils and was a very engaging speaker," said Mrs Savova, Librarian. "She spoke to them about her journey as a writer, her writing, themes, books and the inspiration for her ideas. It was a brilliant workshop where she was able to engage with the pupils, and help them to improve their creative writing skills."

"Danielle was able to inspire and encourage the students to read on a regular basis; they really enjoyed and appreciated their time with her," commented Mr Sharrock, English teacher and Literacy Coordinator. "Danielle's workshop was creative and engaging. She is an inspiring speaker and our students hugely benefitted from her visit to our school. They were enthused and inspired by what she shared with them about the life of an author, and asked some very interesting and thought-provoking questions. I am now looking forward to seeing how they transfer this learning into their creative writing!"

New Library Books

Promoting a love of reading

We are delighted to receive the latest delivery of new books for the school library and are very keen to continue with our programme of promoting a love of reading at Saint Paul's.

The new books are designed to encourage a joy of reading and a love of books. We have some extremely avid readers at Saint Paul's who have already read several million words.

"We recognise the importance of instilling a love of reading in every student. We like to remind students and staff of all ages to make reading a priority activity in their lives," explained Mrs Savova, Librarian. "We want people to make reading a regular part of their routine whether they're reading solo or together with their classmates, parents, or friends. We want to help students to develop a life-long love of reading. It is very important to instil in young people a need and desire to read."

"As a school, we try hard to promote a real passion and enthusiasm for reading in all its forms," explained Mr Sharrock, English teacher and Literacy Coordinator. "We know that students who read, gain a greater understanding of the world in which they live, they learn to appreciate how writers use language for effect and they extend their repertoire of vocabulary."

National Youth Dance Workshop

Inspirational Dance Workshop

Pupils enjoyed a visit from professional dancers from the National Youth Dance Company (NYDC) who worked with a group of the school's aspiring dancers

The school was delighted to welcome the NYDC, as part of Nationwide Schools Programme, to school where the pupils were able to take part in a wonderful contemporary dance experience.

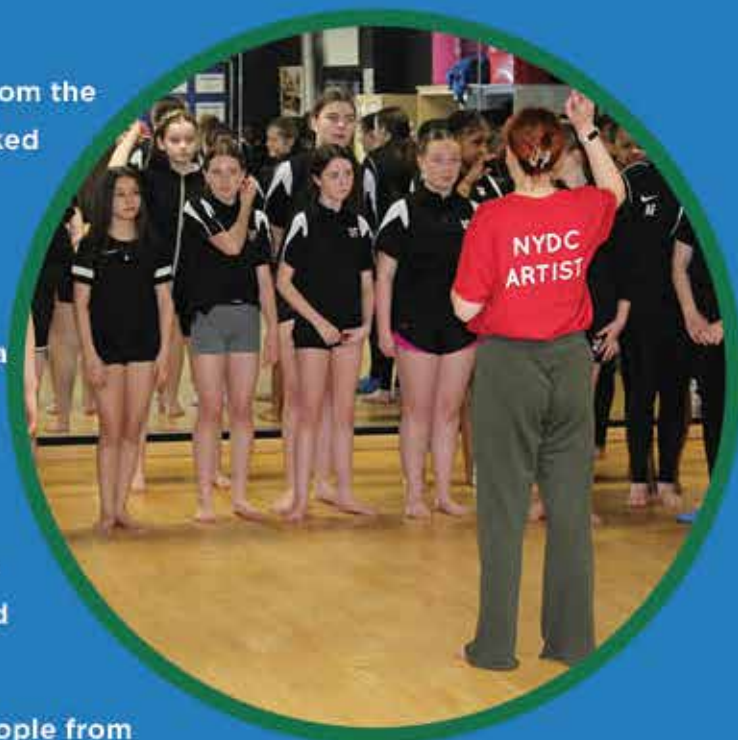

The NYDC aims to create and perform innovative and influential dance, bringing together some of the brightest dance talent from across England to work with Sadler's Wells' internationally renowned Associate Artists and visiting companies.

The dance company wants to work with young people from all areas of the country, from all dance backgrounds and experiences. The school workshops are designed to give participants an insight into life in the company through sharing company practices and repertoire from leading choreographers.

Mrs Slater explained: "An absolutely amazing visit allowing pupils to explore a variety of dance genres! It was a wonderful opportunity for our pupils to learn more about dance and to take part and experiment in a very supportive environment. The workshop leaders engaged well with the pupils who really enjoyed taking part in such a fun and very energetic workshop which provided a fantastic insight into the world of dance."

Mr Whiteside added: "This was a great experience for all the students, the session was incredibly energetic, upbeat and inspiring and challenged our pupils to try new things. Involvement in workshops like this provide a very valuable experience for our students, build confidence and enhance the learning curriculum."

Thank you to the National Youth Dance Company for a fabulous visit!

Reading Reward Pizza Party

Reading Rewarded

Dedicated readers from Saint Paul's were rewarded for their positive attitude to reading by being invited to a Pizza Party in the school library.

Saint Paul's wants to encourage their pupils to make reading a regular part of their routine whether they're reading solo or together with their classmates, parents, or friends. The school wants to help them to develop a life-long love of reading. It is very important to instil in young people a need and desire to read.

The results this term were:

Mrs Evan's Year 7 (7U) winning class read 1,764,562 words

Mrs Evan's Year 8 (8T) winning class read 3,865,425 words

Miss Fannon's Year 9 (9U) winning class read 3,683, 874 words and Miss Lewis's running up Year 9 class (9T) read and 2,023,051 words

New Horizons winning class (9NH) read 102,815 words.

The winning classes had the highest word count and everybody in the class passed a reading quiz during the spring term.

Mrs Savova, the school Librarian, explained: "We wanted to promote reading and encourage all students to read - so, there were two conditions in the competition. Firstly, everybody in the class must have passed a quiz (they had to work as a team and support the weaker readers). And, secondly, the pupils had to strive to read as many words as they could (to stretch the good readers and improve the reading skills of the weaker ones). The classes in each year group, who had read most words won the pizza party award."

Mr Sharrock, English teacher and Literacy Lead, was impressed with the students' commitment to reading, he commented: "We are enjoying promoting reading across the school and seeing the benefits and pleasures of this. We believe that treats like this encourage and inspire our pupils to achieve the best they can. It is always a great pleasure rewarding those pupils who have worked so hard throughout the term."

Mental Health

Anxiety

out of control.

Mental Health Awareness Week

Staff and pupils at Saint Paul's supported Mental Health Awareness Week - the theme this year is anxiety, a common feeling that can sometimes get out of control.

Mental Health Awareness Week, now in its 23rd year, is hosted by the charity, Mental Health Foundation.

To access supportive and helpful resources please see the Safeguarding/Wellbeing section of the school website.

Alexa Charnley, Director of Fundraising and Communications at the Mental Health Foundation, said: "We all experience anxiety but sometimes it can get out of control and become a mental health problem. However, there are things we can do to manage feelings of anxiety and stop them becoming overwhelming.

For example, breathing exercises, physical activity, speaking to a trusted friend, or keeping a diary. You can find more information and guidance on our website mentalhealth.org.uk."
